Charles Coblyn had a bright line of comment running through the whole programme, and pleased with the solo, Business is Business. The interlocutor, Business is Business. The interlocutor, J. C. Overbagh, won applause for his rendering of the tenor solo, Home is Where the Heart Is. William Bedard, otherwise known as "Billy," won applause far out of proportion to his years and inches, which are few, with his dancing, showing a surprising variety of novel tseps. Two delightful solos were the selections Pucker Up Your Lips, Miss Lindy, by John Bowker, and I'll Sit Right on the Moon, by Edward Bellefieur, both the singers responding to encores. The first half of the programme closed with a chorus the programme closed with a chorus

To Have Smooth, White, Soft Skin All Winter

(From the Woman Beautiful.)
Does your skin chap or roughen easity in this weather, or become unduly red or blotchy? Let me tell you a quick, easy way to overcome the trouble and keep your complexion heautifully white, smooth and soft the winter long. Just get an ounce of ordinary mercolized wax at the nearest drug store and use a little before retiring, as you would cold cream. I pon a sising remove the coating with suday water. All Over America, the News of the Marvelous Dandruff Cures of Parisian Sage Has Spread

A few years ago there was introduced into America a cure for dandruff, falling hair and all scalp discases.

This hair renewer did not attract much attention for some months, until a progressive business man, hearing of several almost magical cures, decided to tell the American people of its mighty power to destroy the deadly dandruff germ.

Today, without any sensational or untruthful advertising, Parisian Sage is untruthful advertising, Parislan Sage is used extensively in almost every town in America. What has produced this great demand? Simply this: Parislan Sage does just what we are telling the readers of this paper it will do.

We claim, and we back our claim with our money back guarantee, that Parislan Sage is the most invigorating and rejuvenating hair tonic. It cures dandruff, stops falling hair and itching scalp; it makes the hair grow strong and vigorous, yet soft and lustrous. It is the only hair dressing that reaches the root bulb of the hair and destroys the root bulb of the hair and destroys the dandruff germ.

And to the women who are reading this simple statement of fact, we want to say that Parisian Sage works won-ders with women's hair. It will turn dull, harsh and faded hair into beauti-ful, lustrous hair in a few days, and is
